

3.

4.

Let the Magic Begin with Books and Beyond!

Welcome, Johnny Appleseed Students! Books and Beyond invites you on a quest to become a better reader!

Each time you read a book, write it down on your Reading Sheet along with the number of pages. Remember that longer books with higher page counts fill in more lines on your sheet!

When your Reading Sheet is complete, have an adult sign it and return it to your teacher. Each Reading Sheet is considered a station. You will earn a prize for each station you complete. Any student who completes eight stations will receive a medal at the Books and Beyond ceremony in the Spring of 2012.

Here is your first Reading Sheet to get you started! Good Luck!

Dates to Remember

December 19, 2011	Half-sheet Bonus Week: Students who pass in a sheet with 8 books by Thursday move up one station.
February 27, 2012	Dr. Seuss Bonus Week: Students who have passed in at least one sheet by Thursday move up one station.
May 11, 2012	Last day to pass in reading sheets.

Longer books "count" as more books on the reading sheet. Divide the book's number of pages by 24 to find out how many books it counts for. For example, a 75-page book counts as 3 books, so the student would fill in three lines on his reading sheet.

8 to 47 page books count as 1 book
48 to 71 page books count as 2 books
72 to 95 page books count as 3 books
96 to 119 page books count as 4 books
120 to 143 page books count as 5 books
144 to 167 page books count as 6 books
168 to 191 page books count as 7 books
192 to 215 page books count as 8 books
216 to 239 page books count as 9 books
240 to 263 page books count as 10 books
264 to 287 page books count as 11 books
288 to 311 page books count as 12 books
312 to 335 page books count as 13 books
336 to 359 page books count as 14 books
360 to 383 page books count as 15 books
384 to 407 page books count as 16 books
408 to 431 page books count as 17 books
432 to 455 page books count as 18 books
456 to 479 page books count as 19 books
480 to 503 page books count as 20 books
504 to 527 page books count as 21 books
528 to 551 page books count as 22 books
552 to 575 page books count as 23 books